VOL. II. NO. 11.

CHICAGO, TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1896.

PRICE, 10 CENTS

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 6.—Of the eligibles for next Thursday's $5,000 Derby it now looks as if the field will come from twelve. The dozen probabilities are to be ridden and weighted as below:

Horses	Wt.	Owners	Jockeys
Ben Eder....	122	Hot Springs Stable.	J. Hill
Lady Inez....	117	Hot Springs Stable.	Perkins
Captive.....	122	P. Dunne.....	Martin
Frontier.....	122	P. Dunne.....	Clayton
Falcon.....	122	W. G. Cannon.....	Scherrer
Whisper.....	122	J. W. Schorr.....	Schorr
Damien.....	122	C. Porter.....	R. Wilms
Midland.....	119	Charter Oak Stable.	Knapp
Gretchen S....	117	Red Bird Stable....	Blaylock
Rookwood....	112	E. F. McLean.....	C. Reiff
Berclair.....	109	E. F. McLean.....	Thorpe
Loki.....	122	E. F. McLean.....

The latest work has been: Damien, 1 mile, 1:48; Berclair, the Derby route, 1½ miles, 2:01¼, last mile in 1:48; Captive, 1¼ miles in 2:20. The Dunne colt's trouble of last week was trifling and in his shoulder.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—In the journey from California, Felix Carr, b. c. 3, by Jils Johnson—Wigwam, of the Schreiber Stable, died at Albuquerque. Trainer Baker brought back twenty horses and the stable is thirty-five strong and in preparation for racing. Among the lot are: Hawthorne, Don Carillo, Schiller, Barbarossa, Jack Martin, Bertha, Braw Scot, Theresia, Pearson, and a 2-year-old sister to Schiller.

Jacob Cochran has his hands full looking after a big string of about thirty belonging to Louis Ezell and Ed Corrigan. Ezell's are all 2-year-olds, and a finer looking lot of youngsters it would be hard to find in the West. Dutch Valet, the Teuton—Lady's Maid colt, greatly resembles his well-known half brother, Service. A filly by Colonel Clark is another gem in the Ezell bunch. She looks something like Lottie Mills, who was about the best mare ever sired by Colonel Clark. A colt by Forester is also one that attracts great attention.

The Corrigan string is headed by Vassal Linseed and a 3-year-old brother to Riley, Linseed was a fair 2-year-old, but he has not been heard of much since. Vassal is looking well, but his legs are not sound. The brother to Riley is troubled with the same complaint.

Corrigan's 2-year-olds are mostly by Lew Weir. They look well and are said to be as promising as could be expected considering that they are backward.

In a personal letter to a Chicago relative, an English turfman interestingly describes the estate of the Duke of Westminster over whose stud, Bend Or, Ormonde's sire, still reigns. Ormonde was sold by the Duke to Senor Boucan of Argentina, because he had become a roarer. The South American paid some $80,000 for the horse, and made a profit of $45,000 or so by his sale to W. O. B. Macdonough. Westminster built a church on the Yorkshire estate with Ormonde's purchase price. Bend Or's fees from forty mares at $500 each is an annual fund for charitable purposes. The estate is ten miles across. Every dam on it roams in a ten acre field enclosed by stone walls eight feet high. Each yearling and two-year-old has a paddock to itself similarly walled of two acres. The mares and youngsters never see each other. Solitude is evidently a successful item in turf rearing, judging from the successes of the Duke of Westminster in a racing way.

For the classic Tidal Stakes to be run at the spring Coney Island meeting forty-three 3-year-olds are still eligible. Here is the list:

Beaufort,	Madge D.,
Beaumont,	Margrave,

Carib,
Carino,
Celerity,
Counsellor Howe,
Dantes,
Del Paso,
Donald Dinnie.
Donder,
Eliza Belle,
Endymion,
Formal,
F. Train,
Hamilton II,
Handspring,
Hastings,
Hazlet,
Imperial,
Intermission,
Laurelton,
Loyal Prince,

An analysis of the lot leaves but six with a chance. They are: Handspring, Hastings, Hazlet, Margrave, Sallie Clicquot and Sir Play. The next division takes in Silver II the highly tried Swiftfoot—Domino's sister—St. Agnes, Intermission and Carib.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—Of the prominent stables that have been racing here, the following will go to Newport: Lilly Meade Stable, 8 horses; Clyde Stable, 6; A. G. Weston, 15; M. T. Danaher, 10; J. F. Davis, 6; M. E. Dyer, 4; McMillan & Co., 4; P. D. Crumes, 6; Earnshaw & Bro., 6; T. H. Stevens, 6 and W. McLemore, 4.

Memphis will get the following: P. M. West, 8; Shamrock Stable, 4; W. M. Barrick, 10; Orwell Stable, 6; J. M. Murphy, 6; Springfield Stable, 8; R. A. Smith, 10; Overland Stable, 6; Pelham Stable, 12; H. Sloan, 5; H. Stover, 4; E. D. Brown, 4; B. W. Haskell, 5; W. J. Donohue, 3; J. F. Fogg, 2; M. Cady, 4; M. H. Healy, 2.

The following have gone to Chicago: L. Winder, 6; Alpine Stable, 5; Villmar Stable, 6; M. L. Conroy, 7; Monmouth Stable, 6; Kenwood Stable, 6; G. L. Bell, 6; G. W. Poole, 12; New City Stable, 5; John Bradford, 2; G. A. Robertson, 3; E. C. Brown, 2; Florence Stable, 6; Red Ribbon Stable, 2.

To St. Louis A. H. & D. H. Morris will send 10; Seguin Stable, 10; John Garcia, 6; Charles Brothers, 8.

R. Bradley and Frank Reagan will ship their strings to Washington, while H. T. Batcheler and D. W. Kelly will make Dallas their destination.

LITTLE ROCK'S MEETING OVER.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6.—This was the last day of an unsuccessful meeting here. The fields have been light, attendance small and there was very little betting. The meeting was to have run over until Thursday, but it was too much of a grind on the officials to dig down into their pockets to pay purses. To-day's stake fixture, the Tennessee Brewing Co.'s event was a tame affair. Headley's Nat P, winning all the way in a gallop. He is a good colt. Maggie Gray in the last race, ran as if in a trance. She was a 4 to 5 shot and stood pat in the betting. Clayton got in to-day from New Orleans. He goes to Memphis to ride. Most of the horsemen go there.

Barney Schreiber's Idea.

Barney Schreiber, perhaps the most popular of western owners and bookmakers, says of DAILY RACING FORM. "If I can find a fault with the paper it is that, it gives too much information. No sport ever had so high class and comprehensive a daily authority. It is far deeper than any form book."

MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPIONS.

The middleweight championship just now is almost as much a theme for dispute as the heavyweight. As in the heavyweight niche, too, Fitzsimmons is the anarchist. The Kangaroo lays claim to three championships, viz.: heavy, middle, and the 150-pound division. The first two are old classes; the last is a new kind of division not generally recognized, but men often match and fight at it, both in this country and in Australia. Fitz thus wants everything in sight.

The 150-pound credentials of Fitzsimmons are based on his performance with Jack Dempsey. In that fight Fitzsimmons had such an easy thing that it surprised him. He weighed in at 150½ pounds. He claims that he can reach 150 today as easily as ever. For several years Fitz has been recognized as the middleweight champion of the world. Since his search after the pennant of the top class, however, not so much is heard concerning his middleweight honor. I do not know just now whether there are any precedents in the chronicles of the ring as to how many championships of classes a fighter can hold. From a common-sense view and from the general hatred for anything of the nature of monopoly these days, however, it appears to me now, without delving into the subject, that one class for one man, particularly where that class is world-wide, is sufficient. A boxer, of course, if he would meet and defeat every bona-fide challenger in each of two or three classes, could not be regarded otherwise than as champion of them; but no one man, especially in such times as the present, when volumes of scratching and argument are prefatory to every contest, is practically capable of such doing. If some very ambitious scrapper should try it, he would find he would have no time to carouse about the country in the show business. Yet Fitz has come nearer filling the bill than anyone else.

"Kid" McCoy, the recent conqueror of Tom Ryan, claims the American "middleweight" championship, bar Fitzsimmons, and he claims it, it seems to me, without a shadow of right. He appears to base his title on the defeat of Ryan. Ryan, however, has just emerged from the welters, never having defeated a middleweight of any pretensions of top-of-the-heap distinction, and such being the case, he had nothing to pass over to the "Kid" that would give the latter any right to call himself champion.

Immediately after McCoy knocked out Dick Moore in six rounds, September 2, 1895, he wrote me a challenge to Dan Creedon, which was published and copied into eastern papers, and soon after the Kid embarked for England, entirely bent on getting a match there with Creedon. He said Fitz had promised him his interest in the middleweight class. But McCoy did not seem to take very well across the pond, and what little interest he created for himself faded altogether when he lost a decision to Ted White in a ten round preliminary. Londoners did not judge that he merited a match with Creedon.

Soon after McCoy came back and has recently been claiming the middleweight championship. Col. Hopkins has just cabled to Dan to come home, purposely to meet McCoy, and if the latter still remains willing the men will be matched to see who is new middleweight champion.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

John Cooper is still in partial training, but pulls up lame at the finish of every trial.

The Maryland Racing Association, operating Elkton, announces a 26 days meeting to open April 11.

In the future New Memphis Jockey Club of Memphis, Tenn., will be known as the Country Club.

Oakwood let down under his spring screwing up at Little Rock, and will hardly race again until midsummer.

Ed Kearney came east with the McNaughton & Muir lot and has been sent east for racing at the Washington meeting.

Phil Howell, an eastern bookmaker of the first class, will book on the Indiana tracks this year. He has been in California all winter.

R. Wilkerson is in the meshes of the Alabama law at Birmingham for booking on New Orleans. He sets up the commission plea.

The Wall crowd intends, it is said, to use the Elkton track for racing by electric light at night in addition to the regulation sport in the afternoon.

Casper was not entered in any of the stake races because he was in such a poor condition his trainer thought he would never face a starter.

Last Wednesday at Bay District Starter Ferguson, using the machine, dispatched eight fields in 15 minutes, 10 seconds. The first occupied 6 minutes.

A bill was introduced in the Assembly at Albany last week changing the period of time for holding running or trotting meets from forty days to thirty-five.

Hugh Connors, a western adviser, is in jail at Lexington, accused of operating a confidence game. He is also accused of stealing Clifford in 1895 and Hyde Park a year later.

All the reports from parties who saw the Leigh-McDaniels starting machine trial declare that the appliance is simple and effective to the point of excellence and perfection.

M. M. H., Chicago, Ill.: If you bet on King Street at San Francisco last Tuesday, you win. There can be no separation on a stake entry unless in stated cases of private betting.

A brown aristocrat of the bluest trotting blood by performance was born at J. M. Forbes' farm near Boston last Saturday. He is by Arion and Nancy Hanks, both champions in their day.

Shrewd and thrifty Tony Licalzi has bought the running qualities of Orinda and will race the mare on the Indiana tracks this year. After her racing days she goes to Col. Applegate's farm as a matron.

The Keene's half brother to Tenny by Candlemas—Belle of Maywood has been named Thuyster. He is working impressively at Sheephead. At Gravesend Ben Brush, and Handspring and Bill Daly's Emotional, Volley and Gold Dollar are the fastest in work.

Bob Rose has asked Lonnie Clayton to ride Clifford in the Brooklyn Handicap and the jockey referred him to Trainer Rowe. Jockey McGlone has been made an offer to ride for Walter Rollins, trainer for the Oneck Stable, and if satisfactory terms can be agreed upon he will accept.

The old judges' stand at the Oakland Cal., track, in which General Grant stood when St. Julien trotted that wonderful mile in 2:02, has been placed in the garden in the rear of the club house and will be fitted up in a tasty manner. On the top of the roof a bust of the great horseman, soldier and statesman will be placed.

GOOD RACING AT INGLESIDE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 6.—A heavy rain made Ingleside's surface one of thin slop with a good footing beneath. The racing was generally good and the results true. Miss Brummel won a good race, Mobalaska in a soft spot scored easily. Sister Adele was the long shot of the day. She was at one time 30 to 1 in the ring and won after a desperate finish. Sister Mary was in clover too and won as if she was. Nelson beat his field in runaway style and Walt r J's win was clever. The summary:
